

Terrorism is today's new watch word. There are many forms of terrorism. What the banker's association is attempting to do, if you allow it, is a form of terrorism. If I can't sit in my own home, my refuge from this frenzied world, without being constantly intruded upon and harassed by every greedy, money grubbing, thoughtless, heartless business operator out there, then have the muslims fly one of their planes into my house, and please have them board the CEO's of the banker's assc. on that plane. If you can't regulate your own domain and assure me that I won't be harangued through my phone, my TV, my computer, my cell phone, and everything else you supposedly control, then why the hell do you exist?
